

1. GENERAL REVIEW

Endowed with abundant natural resources - fertile land and highly conducive agro-climatic conditions, Andhra Pradesh State is blessed with major river systems like the Godavari, Krishna, Pennar, Vamsadhara and 36 other rivulets. The State, with a total geographical area of 275.04 lakh hectares accounts for 8.37% of the Country's area stands 4th largest in the country and enjoys several competitive socio-economic advantages. The State, situated in a tropical region stands as the 2nd longest coastline in the country with a length of 974 km. With 63,814 Sq.Kms of Forest area and accounting for 23.2% the total geographical area, Andhra Pradesh has a variety of physiographic features ranging from high hills, undulating plains to a coastal deltaic environment.

As the largest producer of rice in India, Andhra Pradesh State is also the leading producer of cash crops like Tobacco, Groundnut, Chillies, Turmeric, Oilseeds, Cotton, Sugar and Jute. It produces some of the finest fruit varieties of mango, grapes, guava, sapota, papaya and bananas. The State continues to be a preferred destination in the Country for Information Technology and IT enabled services and has eventually become a home for Indian IT majors. With several holy pilgrim centres, ports, rivers, beaches and hill stations, the State is an important tourist hub both for national and international travelers.

The Provisional Census-2011 figures revealed certain favourable trends. With a population of 8.47 Crores, the State accounts for 7% of country's population making it the 5th most populous State. A significant decline is observed in the rate of growth of population during 2001-11 which has come down to 11.1 percent from 14.6 percent during 1991-2001. The Sex Ratio in the State, up from 978 in 2001 to 992 in 2011, higher than All India's 940 in 2011 reflects the sustained efforts of the Government in educating the masses, especially those the rural areas. It's a great augury that the favourable trend in sex ratio registered for the first time in the State in 2001 continued in Census 2011 also. While the overall literacy rate has gone up from 60.47 percent in 2001 to 67.66 percent in 2011, the male literacy rate has increased from 70.32 percent to 75.56 percent. The female literacy rate has gone up from 50.43 % in 2001 to 59.74% in 2011.

Growth of the Economy:

The economy of Andhra Pradesh since formation of the State way back in 1956 has progressed rather slowly but turned vibrant over a period of time. The State's economy more or less maintained the rhythm of the national economy and broke from the past growth trend around 1980.

The average annual growth of the economy of the Andhra Pradesh till beginning of 80s was a little over 3% and progressed towards a higher growth trajectory after 80s. The State, since its formation in the beginning of Second Five Year Plan, has successfully implemented various policy initiatives and growth propelling programs that essentially focused on poverty alleviation and employment generation.

After a moderate performance during the Ninth Five Year Plan (1997-98 to 2001-02), the economy of the State accelerated in the Tenth Five Year Plan (2002-03 to 2006-07) to register impressive growth. The growth momentum continued during the 11th Plan(2007-08 to 2011-12) also, as the State registered an average GSDP growth rate(at 2004-05 prices) of 8.33% even surpassing the All-India's GDP growth rate of 7.94% during the same period.

The strength of fundamentals of the economy is evident from the remarkable transition to a high growth path, which has been achieved in the recent years. Various strategic initiatives put in place by the State, by and large have improved the living standards of the people including those living at the lower echelons of the Society.

Macro-Economic Aggregates:

The distinguished feature of the state economy in the recent past was that the remarkable progress registered in all the three sectors(Agriculture, Industry and Services). In fact, the State economy witnessed the strongest phase since 2004-05 onwards. While the Nation's economy grew at an impressive rate of 8.39% during 2004-05 to 2011-12, the performance of the State economy was even more impressive with the average growth of 9.26%.

The GSDP at constant (2004-05) Prices for the year 2011-12 (Advance Estimates) is estimated at Rs.4,07,949 crores as against Rs.3,81,942 crores for 2010-11 (Quick Estimates) indicating a growth of 6.81%. The corresponding sectoral growth rates are (-) 1.54% in Agriculture sector, 7.33% in Industries sector and an impressive growth of 9.80% in the Services sector.

The Per Capita Income is an indicator of the standard of living of the people. As per the Advance estimates of 2011-12, the Per Capita Income of Andhra Pradesh at current prices increased to Rs.71,540 from Rs.62,912 in 2010-11 registering a growth of 13.7 percent while at constant (2004-05) prices, it has also gone up from Rs.40,366 in 2010-11 to Rs.42,710 in 2011-12 registering a growth rate of 5.8 per cent.
